

Dear Friends and Neighbors

The time to come together is NOW.

As health care providers, our job is to provide reassurance, never to cause alarm. But with the number of available beds in our hospitals dwindling, we are very concerned.

Please contact local civic leaders to tell them you support their common-sense public health actions to protect our caregivers. It's possible to manage COVID-19 without shutting down businesses and our entire lives. But doing so will require cooperation and a real commitment to prevention.

Here is what we must do now:

Gather safely with extended family and friends

- Limit social gatherings to 10 or fewer
- Stay outdoors
- With a vaccine so close, stay safe by hosting a virtual holiday gathering this year

Protect yourself and others when outside your home

- Wear a mask
- Keep at least 6 feet distance from others

Practice good hygiene all day

- Wash your hands
- Use hand sanitizer
- Avoid touching your face

You count on us every day. Now we're hoping we can count on you.

Providence Medical Center